Jenny King is an Australian crochet designer and the author of Bavarian Crochet On-the-Go, Fashions to Flaunt Crocheted with Noro Yarns, Figure Flattering Plus-Size Fashions, and Learn to Do Bavarian Crochet. Her designs have appeared in magazines that include Vogue Knitting Crochet.

I made several of the outfits in this book. Each pattern had errors and inconsistencies. E.g. wrong size hook for yarn, shaping in wrong spot. Because I have crocheted for awhile, I could improvise to make the pattern work. Would not recommend for beginners.

But it needs to offer other choices of yarn. Some of the directions were difficult to follow and different needle sizes were used in the pattern that weren't listed in the Materials.

I love the patterns! I plan to make them all! Thanks for such a great CROCHET collection! I love crochwt for dolls, & Loom-knitting is also on my radar!

The styles are up-to-date and and fashionable. The instructions are easy to follow and the color combinations looks great. I'm looking forward to completing all the outfits.

Love the item and excellent service.

great okg, fast del. Absolutely adorable outfits! Highly recommend seller!

I should have realized the Aussie author would have been using HER local yarns which is not a criticism. Translating that to USA local yarns, however, is not my idea of fun. Not only that, I have no intention of using wool yarn for doll clothes. I want them to be able to be thrown in the washing machine & not fear shrinkage, just easy wash & wear should it be needed. Also, for the price, I would have expected several more patterns, at least a pair of pants. There are 18 total patterns, including 6 outfits; the rest of them are accessories. Otherwise it IS up to the Annies Attic standards for color prints and heavy paper books AND printed in the USA, which is a plus where I am concerned. I will still try to make them, but it will be trial & error as to fit.
