The late John S. Dempsey was Professor Emeritus of Criminal Justice at State University of New York (SUNY), Suffolk County Community College. He taught criminal justice and public administration courses at SUNY, Empire State College, where he served as a mentor for ranking members of law enforcement and criminal justice agencies. Mr. Dempsey was a member of the New York City Police Department (NYPD) from 1964 until 1988, serving as a police officer, detective, sergeant, lieutenant and captain. He received seven citations for meritorious and excellent police duty. After retiring from the NYPD, he served as Professor of Criminal Justice at Suffolk County Community College on Eastern Long Island, where he received the college's prestigious "Who Made a Difference Award" for his teaching and work with students. Recipient of the Outstanding Contributor Award from the ACJS Community College Section and the Fellows Award from the NEAJS, Mr. Dempsey authored several books on policing and security. He received Master's Degrees in Criminal Justice from Long Island University and in Public Administration from Harvard University, the John F. Kennedy School of Government. Linda S. Forst is a Professor of Criminal Justice at Shoreline Community College in Seattle, Washington, where she also serves on the Civil Service Commission for Mukilteo, Washington. Dr. Forst is a retired police captain from the Boca Raton (Florida) Police Services Department, where she was a patrol officer, investigator, sergeant, lieutenant and captain and the department's first female field training officer, sergeant, lieutenant and captain. She received numerous commendations during her career and also served on the board of directors for a local battered women's shelter. An author of numerous magazine, journal and newspaper publications and several popular books on policing, Dr. Forst regularly presents at conferences and to community groups. She earned her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Criminal Justice, her Master's Degree in Community College Education, and her Ph.D. in Adult Education from Florida Atlantic University. She is also a graduate of University of Louisville's Sex Crime Investigation School and Northwestern University's School of Police Staff and Command. Dr. Forst is a member of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences (ACJS), the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC) and the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and has instructed for Northwestern's School of Police Staff and Command as well as Palm Beach Community College and Florida Atlantic University.

This is an excellent soft cover text book. It begins with a brief history of police and their role in society. It lays out the foundations with Sir Robert Peel's nine principles and reveals how the system has changed throughout the course of police history. This text is helpful to the visual learner as it has illustrations depicting police work, training, arrestees, citizens, events such as the twin towers in

NY, the rioting in LA, and much more. ~ MJ

Great condition

Good detailed book.

Great information for my assignments.

it was just what I needed. This book was just the right thing I needed to complete my course work.

I just Love this book'

Book showed up in a timely manner and in good condition. There was some writing in the book but that's what is expected of a used text book

This book help me through school for this 4 months and it also help me learn more the law in the police eyes.
