MKB42, MP43, MP44 And The Sturmgewehr 44 (The Propaganda Photo Series)

Synopsis

The Sturmgewehr is the mother of all assault rifles and a major step in the development of the modern firearm. It combined low production costs with special ammunition, resulting in a cheap but a very effective full-automatic rifle. Fortunately, development and adoption was delayed by Hitler's objections, thus limiting the amount of guns that actually reached the front.

Guus de Vries is a historian, specialising in the field of firearms. Thus far, he has written fifteen books on firearms history, mostly together with Bas Martens, and numerous articles for magazines in Belgium, Germany, Finland, the Netherlands, Russia, the United Kingdom and the U.S.A.

My husband loves this book. He thought he would need to pay over $300.00 for a different book to get the information he was looking for. This book was very informative. Perfect book. History and numbers.

This book is OK but not as good as a reference book as "Sturmgewehr" by Hans-Dieter Handrich. Some good photos but not as deep in reference information.

An excellent book with a wealth of information about the history of these progenitors of all the world's Assault Rifles.

After waiting years for the very high price to come down, I finally bought this and it's worth the now modest price. Concur with Mr Hickman's review below. I have read everything I could find about this fascinating rifle born of World War 2 German ingenuity and desperation. This book makes a worthy addition to any collection about the rifle, it includes some details and facts not found elsewhere along with some genuinely rare photos.
