Customer Reviews

"Finally, a science-minded physician has addressed the phenomenon of pre-death experiences with compassion, comprehension, and candor. Whether you are a hospice professional, a family member preparing for the transition of a loved one, or a person seeking to understand the nature of human consciousness and its place in the universe, you will be uplifted and inspired by this book."
--Gary E. Schwartz, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology and Medicine at the University of Arizona and author of The Afterlife Experiments and The Energy Healing Experiments "Into the Light is a courageous testament of deepest personal conviction and great beauty, the chronicle of a scientist and humanitarian on a journey of discovery into the mysteries of death and what comes after. I am not ashamed to say that I wept at times while reading this lovely book." --Whitley Strieber, New York Times best-selling author of Communion and The Grays "Dr. Lerma's conversations with his hospice patients at the border between life and death give us all much to contemplate. Reading this book just might change your life!" --Pamela M. Kircher, MD, author of Love Is the Link: A Hospice Doctor Shares Her Experience of Near Death and Dying "Eyewitness accounts of angelic apparitions are rare, but Dr. Lerma has more numbers of this experience than anyone I have met." --Catherine Lanigan, author of Angel Watch, Divine Nudges and the novelizations of Romancing the Stone and The Jewel of the Nile "Into the Light offers immeasurable healing and inspiration of the heart and soul for those about to leave this earthly plane, and for their loved ones remaining...as well as a blessing for us all as we witness science and spirituality divinely bridged. The encouraging reminder that each one of us on this planet serves a purpose, and that each circumstance is a teacher of love, offers immense hope and upliftment for humanity." --Claire Papin, host and producer of It's All Good on Sirius Satellite/LIME Radio

John Lerma, M.D., is the inpatient medical director for the internationally renowned TMC Hospice, part of the largest medical center in the world, The Medical Center of Houston. After graduating with honors from The University of Texas in Austin with a pharmacy degree, he entered The University of Texas San Antonio medical school and received his board certification in both Internal Medicine as well as Hospice and Palliative Medicine. He has spent the last 10 years caring for the terminally ill and is widely recognized for his compassionate care and for his teaching of end-of-life care to nurses, medical students, and resident physicians. He is currently involved in a research project in palliative medicine with MD Anderson Hospital, the leading cancer institute in the world. Dr. Lerma is a frequent guest on local, national, and international radio and TV.

This book has inspired me to be kinder and try to spread kindness amongst others. If you are going thru a tough time in your life or dealing with death it is a must read. The joy that this book has brought to my family and friends is endless. I am not one to say such things unless I really mean it.

I personally found comfort in reading about angelic visits to the dying. The images of the angels were so beautiful as were the colors surrounding them. The love emanating from the angels was also reassuring. This doctor described such beautiful imagery as described to him that I felt as if I were experiencing the events along with the doctor & patient. I enjoyed some stories more than others. I did appreciate that this doctor did relay in every story that Christ unconditionally loved the world so much that he died for the sins of all & rose from the dead & that everyone could have eternal life through faith & repentance. He is a Catholic with some beliefs that were stated that are definitely contrary to the teachings of the Catholic church & that of the Bible. He did give alot of so called messages imparted to the dying persons through the angels - some of which were good & agreeable to me & some of which were way out there. I enjoyed getting glimpses of lives of Christians & their deaths with dignity. They left a legacy of love behind. I did not so much care for the messages as I was interested in the dying process & descriptions of heavenly visitors & glimpses of another world. I definitely am going to read other accounts by other hospice workers for comparison.

Dr. John Lerma writes from his experience as a hospice doctor. He documents the stories of those who have died telling him of the angel visitations in the days just prior to death. The stories are wonderful, hopeful, interesting, based on true stories. Some very magical tales. The editing on the book could have been better, but I could look past it for the uniqueness and importance of these stories for the loved ones of those who are passing on. Highly recommend it.

This is an awesome book! It is inspirational. It's a must read! You won't be able to put it down. If you have lost a loved one or are wondering about life, death, and how the way you lived your life affects you as you make the transition from this world to the next your questions will be answered. Each chapter focuses on a different person making the transition...Their life story and their experience.....from a 9 year old boy to an SS officer, a murderer, a Jewish woman, priest, mother, grandmother, and more.

Incredibly wonderful book!

Our body dies but, our soul lives on unto eternity. Our Creator's unconditional love which He proved by giving Himself unto death for every single human, becomes crystal clear at the end of our journey here on earth and enter into our eternal home with loving and joyous life with our Creator. Excellent read no matter who you are or your beliefs.

I've read dozens of books about NDEs, and death related visions. This is one of the best. After reading this book I feel better prepared to face my own death and have a better understanding of the role that angels play in helping people cope with dying and in helping them make their final transition. And I got even more out of it the second time I read it.

I read this book because at the time my youngest sister was dying of cancer. Which has now past. Even though we are Christians she was very angry with God. I wished I would have had time to read this book to her. I believe it would have helped her with her passing. This book was very easy to read and understand. I talk to people about the book to just read it.
